

THAMES FOYER

Often described as 'the vibrant heart of the hotel', the Thames Foyer was built into the centre of the original 1889 hotel building when The Savoy was extended in 1904. In this elegant room, diners first rose to dance to the music being played while they ate, thus inventing the dinner-dance; later a permanent dance floor was installed, and the world-renowned Savoy bands made their debuts in the Thames Foyer, as Tango teas and thés dansants became all the rage. The tradition of live music continues, as a pianist plays one of the hotel's traditional pianos during Afternoon Tea. The great glass cupola above you has restored the natural light which flooded into the Thames Foyer in those early days. Its restoration, completed in 2010, was inspired by an original design which was found in the hotel's archive.

A Time for Reflection

The eight paintings hanging in the Thames Foyer are by British Pop artist McAlpine Miller.

Each painting features a star of the stage or screen who enjoyed staying here at The Savoy.

Katharine Hepburn:
Taking Centre Stage

Frank Sinatra:
Man About Town

Ava Gardner:
A Desirable Proposition

Maria Callas:
A Moment of Respite

Charlie Chaplin:
Silent Path to Success

Marlene Dietrich:
Into My World

Alfred Hitchcock:
The Mysterious Thinker

Marilyn Monroe:
Bright Young Thing

“This series of 8 paintings concentrates on two themes: the sheer majesty of The Savoy and the glamour of iconic idols that have been and will continue to be associated with this historic hotel. The choice of subjects serves not only to remind us of an era of great hope and aspiration but also allow us to consider both progress and potential. The Savoy has continued to achieve a standard which might otherwise be lost in our throwaway society where everything is replaceable”.

McAlpine Miller, 2012

All of the paintings are oil on linen canvas. The collection was commissioned by The Savoy in 2012.
